This serene Italian plaster bust of a woman dates to circa 1890. She is gazing downward and slightly to her right. The draping of the fabric, the tied bow on her chest, and details of her facial features are all very well done. The patina of this bust perfectly mimics aged carved stone. The bust rests upon a circular pedestal, and the back is hollowed out. Suitable for any area of the home, this Italian plaster bust will highlight any area.
