This majestic landscape painting at nearly 5 feet long (including frame) depicts a grand mountain view of the Swiss Alps in winter. It was painted by the Swiss artist Hans August Haas, born 1866 in Basel. The view looking down the pine tree covered mountain shows a line of mountain huts in deep powder snow, during a sun filtered evening. In the background are the large and iconic Swiss Alps.

The giltwood frame is original to the painting, and makes a beautiful contrast to the bright white snow and pastel colors of the winter sky.

CONDITION: Good antique condition with craquelure to paint and minor wear. Minor nicks and rubs to gold frame.
